S.A ENVIRONMENTAL FIRM JOINS GROWING NATIONAL GROUP

National firm of environmental engineering contractors Enviropacific Pty Ltd has acquired Adelaide-based Remediate Pty Ltd.

The acquisition is part of the strategic plan to broaden the reach of Enviropacific that now has offices in Adelaide, Newcastle, Brisbane, Sydney and Melbourne.

Recently appointed South Australian manager Nick Wilson will lead the team during the integration of Remediate's activities. He will be liaising with existing clients to ensure that all their requirements are met in a timely and seamless way.

Remediate has conducted a range of complex projects in the State.

All Remediate projects have focused on the application of innovative technologies and sustainability including Australia's first carbon neutral remediation project. (Click here to view story).

Enviropacific managing director, Matt Fensom said: "We have known and worked with the directors of Remediate for sometime and have particularly high regard for their areas of expertise and the quality of projects that they have delivered.

"We will continue to work with the directors to incorporate innovative technologies into our projects across all states".

Managing Director of Remediate, Dr Richard Stewart, said: "We are looking forward to continuing our strong relationship with Enviro Pacific".

"This will include supplying products and services for suitable projects through our technology marketing company, Ziltek Pty Ltd".
